Areas to Try

The Avenues, Hull, HU5 (Approx 7 Miles)

Away from the hustle and bustle of Hull city centre lies a neighbourhood that has been proudly doing its own thing for many a year now: The Avenues. Named after the tree-lined residential streets that run east-west between Princes "Prinny" Avenue and Chanterlands "Chants" Avenue, it's also come to refer to Princes Avenue itself and Newland Avenue, just north of Princes Avenue. The Avenues is a thriving, cosmopolitan neighbourhood, close to the University of Hull, with more than 30 restaurants and bars. It also has scores of independent cafés and traders that regularly tempt people away from the city centre.

The Fruit Market, Hull, HU1 1TU (11 Miles)

Located between the River and the City Centre, Fruit Market is a place for all. Recently winning the waterside district of Fruit Market really has something for everyone. From places to eat and drink, as well as festivals and events for those looking for a bit of culture. Hull's hippest street is now officially one of the UK's trendiest thoroughfares. Eight years ago, Humber Street was full of rotting empty fruit market warehouses and facing an uncertain future. Today it's ripe with bars, restaurants, boutique shops and art galleries. That transformation has now been officially recognised after it picked up a top accolade at Academy of Urbanism's annual awards, winning The Great Street category. Visit www.fruitmarkethull.co.uk/discover or Reception for details

Beverley, HU17 (7.8 Miles)

The streets are lined with a selection of coffee houses, patisseries and cafes with a brilliant range of choice. Freshly prepared sandwiches and salads are widely available or for a naughty but nice bun visit Kavanaghs or Sugar and Spice - home to the Beverley Bun. Well-known chain restaurants such as Ask, Prezzo and Carluccios are nestled between independently owned fabulous restaurants and tapas bars. If you are looking for a heartier meal and a drink, you will find Beverley has a pub on almost every corner, brimming with history and atmosphere. With traditional pub meals, bar snacks and a wide range of wine, cocktails and beer to fuel the rest of your day.
